

INVEST IN THE FUTURE WITH NEW HAMPSHIRE PBS

Inspire the next generation of voters by supporting the New Hampshire PBS 2020 Primary Mock Election. The only primary mock election in the nation, this unique event educates the Granite State's youngest citizens in every aspect of voting in an election, creating a hands-on experience that brings the first in the nation primary to them.

This year, for the first time, NHPBS and Franklin Pierce University will provide a live feed on the day of the mock election as the votes are tallied. Student journalists from grades 4 - 12 will be mentored by students in the Franklin Pierce journalism program as they interview participating voters, elected officials, campaign staff and even candidates.

Parents, educators and students can use the comprehensive NHPBS mock election website as an age-appropriate multimedia hub for researching candidates - including profiles, video interviews and in-depth surveys answered by the candidates and their teams. The site also features interactive games, news and history resources, even lesson plans to help students research the issues, learn how to cast a ballot and understand the results as they roll in.
